The Hongkong Telegraph

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1900.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The War.

From the news to hand from South Africa it is more than evident that Lord ROBERTS has commenced his advance in earnest and is steadily driving the Boers back. It will be noticed, however, that he does not send us hopeful and sanguine telegrams saying that he trusts to be in Pretoria within so many days or weeks. No, BOER is too cautious for that and prefers not to indulge in prophesy, for he evidently recognises the fact that the worrying tactics of the Boers during the last few weeks have been probably undertaken with the object of gaining time. The present campaign has proved to us, and that in a most painful manner, that the mobility of the Boer forces greatly exceeds that of our own, hence the reason of their being able to worry our advance to such an extent. Had Lord ROBERTS been less cautious and pushed forward too rapidly, the probabilities are, that we should have met with a series of more or less serious disasters all brought about by the superior mobility of the Boers enabling them to pounce suddenly upon outlying forces and cut them out from under the very noses of their supporters. But, thanks to the cautious manner in which Lord ROBERTS is making use of his lines of communication as he advances, we have, with one or two exceptions, been free from these annoying episodes. We suppose that there is method in the procedure of the Boers and that they are, while harassing our advance without offering any very serious opposition, gaining time to complete their arrangements for a determined stand at some selected point, probably at the Zand River, where both Colonel HERIOT and General Broadwood report them to be in considerable force. We have heard the opinion expressed that by a brilliant and rapid advance, Lord ROBERTS might seize Pretoria, and we certainly think that this might be so. But, and it is as well to look at the other side of the question, were he to do so it would mean that the flying column might be cut off from its base and we should simply have another force to relieve. As matters now stand they are proceeding surely, if somewhat slowly, and we think that the best that can be done is to trust to Lord ROBERTS. He knows what he is about and if left alone will carry matters out in his own way and to the satisfaction of everybody. It will be quite time to criticize when all is over.

North Borneo.

The telegram which we received from our Labuan Correspondent just before going to press last night, is to say the least of it, a trifle confusing. To deal with North Borneo affairs first, it appears that no further attack has been made upon Kudat but that Mr. SATYER and his men have retired, after practically destroying the settlement as related in a former telegram. Our Correspondent adds that the Constabulary of the British North Borneo Company are pursuing the enemy with the usual result. From what we know of North Borneo and North Borneo methods it is easy to read between the lines here. It means that the force in pursuit of the rebels cannot possibly come up with them and that the chase will prove fruitless. Natives, even when encumbered with a certain amount of loot, march at a rapid rate and it is not to be expected that the North Borneo Company's forces will be able to overtake them. This may appear strange to some of our readers, but to anyone acquainted with the difficulties of a Bornean jungle the matter will occasion no surprise. The coast ports, too, we are told are in an excited state and are fearing attack. This does not look at all as if only Mr. SATYER and his gang were upon the war path, for one hand could not hold the whole of the settlements along the long coast line of the Company's territory in awe. The only reasonable explanation is that the dissatisfaction is exceedingly widespread and that a rising is probable at any time and at any place. It must not be forgotten either that the tribes settled along the North Borneo coast are, with very few exceptions, descended from pirate stock and many of the old men have taken part in the piratical raids which a generation ago used to spread terror from New Guinea to Singapore. These heavy old villains always look upon the present state of semi-civilization as a state of degeneration. A peaceful law-abiding life is not to them the life of a gentleman, and many are the sighs they heave, even in the presence of Europeans, for the good old days of rapine and murder, when every man's hand was against them and they preyed upon all who chanced to come in their way. It requires very little to set the heads of these old pirates aflame, and once the lust of blood and booty has come upon them from hearing of a successful raid carried out by their own people it is little to be wondered at that they should soon stir up the younger men to strive to emulate the deeds which their elders are so prone to boast of.

Sarawak.

The Sarawak trouble appears to have developed into a much larger affair than was at first supposed. So far as we are able to judge from the few details to be gathered from our telegrams (for, full as they have been, telegrams are at the best most unsatisfactory) there would appear to be three causes of trouble. First the incursions of the inland Muruts into Sarawak territory; second, dissatisfaction, probably fostered by the Sultan of Brunei, amongst the Rajah's subjects on the Trusan and Baram Rivers; and thirdly a dispute between the Sultan of Brunei and the Rajah of Sarawak anent Muara.

To take these three factors in reverse order, Muara is an island situated a short distance from Labuan, within the jurisdiction of the Sultan of Brunei. Some years ago coal was discovered upon it by Mr. COWIE, of MAT SALEH fame, and the coal was worked by him by virtue of a concession from the Sultan of Brunei. Now the Rajah of Sarawak was not possessed of any coal, and, when he saw that the Muara mines were worth owning, he purchased them from Mr. COWIE and the settlement which had grown up around the mines was renamed Brooketon. Whether or no the Rajah made any further arrangements with the Sultan we are unable to say, but from the telegram which we published yesterday it would appear that a dispute has arisen as to the Rajah's power in the island. He would doubtless object to the lawless subjects of the Sultan doing as they pleased around his mines, but in the absence of further details from our Correspondent we must not venture to discuss the subject.

The Trusan and Baram troubles it is easy to understand. These territories have been handed over to the Rajah and he is in duty bound to administer them for his and their own good. Now the inhabitants of these two rivers have never in the lifetime of the present Sultan been used to restraint of any kind. They paid poll-tax when it pleased them to conciliate the Sultan and when they felt themselves able to exist without the approval of that potentate being shed upon them they simply refused to pay up and the Sultan, as they well knew, was too indolent and too powerless to force them to do so. What then can be more likely than that the more truculent and unruly spirits have refused to pay to the Rajah that tribute which they confess never to have paid to the Sultan, their hereditary ruler?

The trouble with the Muruts bordering upon Dutch territory we have already discussed, and having placed the newer developments of the situation before our readers to the best of our ability, we may well leave the subject until we receive further and fuller details.

SPEECH BY LORD SALISBURY.

ENGLAND MUST BE READY.

Lord Salisbury's speech eulogized the careful neutrality of all the Powers, but he said, nevertheless, in regard to the future we must rely solely on our own strength, and the military efficiency of the great nations was increasing daily. He questioned the wisdom of trusting to the navy alone, and as conscription was unacceptable, urged the creation of rifle clubs everywhere. The responsibility rested with the people of ensuring the security of the country by placing it in the position of an armed nation.

WEATHER REPORT.

The Observatory report says:—
On the 11th at 11.55 a.m. the barometer is falling on the China coast, probably owing to the formation of a depression in N. China. Pressure remains high over W. Japan and the Loochoos. Gradients slight for S.E. and E. winds on the China coast. FORECAST—Moderate E. to S.E. winds; some drizzling rain or mist.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

We would remind our readers that no cards or tickets are required for admission to the Sports to be held on the Happy Valley to-morrow.

MALTA. Advice received by the War Department indicates that Aginaldo is hiding in the Tagal quarter of Manila. —Reuter. [Then why not catch him?—Ed., H.K. T.]

THE funeral of Warrant Officer Daniels, boatswain of H.M.S. Aurora, who died from fish poisoning yesterday, took place this morning at 6.30 and was attended by a large number of Naval Officers and by the Warrant Officers and representatives of the Garrison. The death is all the more sad because the ship leaves the harbour to-morrow for the North.

THIS morning at the Magistracy a series of summonses against brothel-keepers for not vacating their premises at West Point when ordered to do so by the authorities came on for hearing. Mr. J. J. Francis, Q.C., appeared on behalf of defendants, but as the time at the disposal of the Magistracy was too limited to allow of the case being dealt with an adjournment until 11 a.m. next Thursday was agreed upon.

ON 7th ult. the issue of the United Irishman, published in Dublin, was seized by the police, it is said, on account of the publication of an article entitled "The Famine Queen."

WHEN the Censor Wang Pui-yen was received in audience by the Empress Dowager the other day, says the Hui-pao, the Empress questioned him as to the movement of the Boxers. In reply, the Censor said that the Boxers are all loyal and love the Government and that every one of his family is learning boxing too. On hearing this, the Empress was greatly pleased. Three days after, the Censor was promoted to Vice-Director.

THE inquiry into the death of a Private of the Hongkong Regiment, whose body was found in an advanced state of decomposition on the Kowloon Ranges, was concluded this afternoon. Mr. Comper, after hearing the evidence, said that a cold-blooded and treacherous murder had been committed, but that the unsatisfactory evidence had not been sufficient to trace the culprit. A verdict of wilful murder against a person or persons unknown was accordingly given.

WE have received the programme of a concert to be given at St. Patrick's Hall, by H.M.S. Orlando's Minstrel Troupe next Saturday evening. It includes songs, recitations, a stump speech, and concludes with a tableau entitled "The Slave's Appeal." As the naval motto is "thorough" we can predict that the entertainment will be carried through in a thoroughly efficient manner, and would advise our readers to attend. The concert is in aid of the funds of the Institution.

THE following pieces will be played by the Band of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, under Mr. J. H. Moir, Band Master, in front of the Officers' Mess, Murray Barracks, to-night, commencing at 8 p.m.:—

1. March "Salerno" (Gasser).
2. Overture "Othello" (Wells).
3. Selection "Frederic Mait" (Laughter).
4. Polka "A Maid of Kent" (Lowthian).
5. Polka "Pleasant" (Sullivan).
6. Selection "Scherzer" (Sullivan).

EXTRAS.
1. Song "The Chatter" (Sullivan).
- 2. Selection "Trot de Cavalier" (Wells).
- 3. Polka "The Jolly Little Lap" (Conzelmann).

OUR readers will remember that in February last considerable indignation was aroused against the Orange Free Staters through the publication in the Times of the following item under the Obituary Notices:—"McLachlan, On Christmas day, shot in the Market square, Harrismith, Orange Free State, South Africa, for refusing to fight against his own countrymen, John Mc Lachlan Jr."

We are glad to say that this announcement does not appear to be in accordance with fact. The Rev. Mr. Watkinson, the Wesleyan Minister at Harrismith, which place he left on the 20th March last, interviewed at Lorenzo Marques, authoritatively denied this report. He says there is a great deal of petty tyranny exercised towards Englishmen in the Free State, but as far as he knows there have been no cases of actual violence.

THE P. and O. Jetty was crowded yesterday morning, says the N. C. D. News of 7th instant, with friends of the many Shanghai residents who are going home by the Gaelic, among them being Messrs. George D. Coulls and Percy Brighton. Notably, there was a turnout of A. Company, S.V.C. who were there under Lieut. Gumpert and 2nd Lieut. Cubitt, to give a send-off to Captain W. D. Little. They were drawn up on a grass plot near the jetty, and as Captain Little approached they came to the shoulder-arms. He made a short and happily worded speech, in which he expressed the confidence he had in them, and the pride which it would be for any officer to command them. Then the company gave him three cheers, repeated later on as the tender moved off. Rockets and crackers were discharged by the friends of the younger and more lively of the departing residents, and it was said that A. Company behaved well under fire.

A MEETING of the Legislative Council will be held on Monday, 14th May, at 3 p.m.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

1. First reading of a Bill entitled An Ordinance for the Naturalization of Leung Shek Chiu, alias Leung Foon Man, alias Leung Kin.
2. First reading of a Bill entitled An Ordinance to further amend: The Protection of Women and Girls Ordinance, 1897, and to repeal two Sections of The Protection of Women and Girls Amendment Ordinance, 1897.
3. Second reading of the Bill entitled An Ordinance to amend Ordinance No. 10 of 1872.
4. Second reading of the Bill entitled An Ordinance to further amend the Regulation of Chinese Ordinance, 1888.
5. Second reading of the Bill entitled An Ordinance, to consolidate and amend the law providing for the grant of pensions to the widows and orphans of deceased public officers.

N.B.—A meeting of the Finance Committee will be held immediately after the Council.

THE following are the particulars regarding the accident on board the S. s. Preussen at Kobe, on the 2nd of May. The Kobe Chronicle says:—A serious explosion, which resulted in possibly fatal injury to two men, and serious hurt to others, took place on a lighter, alongside the German mail steamer Preussen shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There were five men in the lighter at the time of the occurrence, engaged in handling the cargo which was being hoisted out of the Preussen. The cause of the explosion is not yet known, but the result was that two of the men were very severely burnt, their recovery being doubtful, two others were more or less injured, while the fifth escaped with a shock and a ducking, he having jumped into the water when the explosion took place. The injured men were immediately brought on shore and taken to Dr. Nishiyama's Hospital in Kitanagasa-dori, where every attention was rendered them. Our representative was kindly allowed to see the man who escaped uninjured, but who was taken from the water in an exhausted and almost insensible condition. From a statement made by this man, it appears that at the time of the explosion the men were just about to unhook a load of boxes that had been or were being lowered into the boat. The whole lighter, it is stated, was at the time filled with dynamite, and it was one of the boxes that were being lowered that exploded, or whether it was a box already in the lighter, the man could not say. Nor did he seem to know whether any sound accompanied the explosion. The flames set his clothes on fire, and he immediately jumped into the water. The lighter appears to have been only slightly damaged, and was afterwards towed into the harbour. The police are making inquiries into the affair.

THIS Queen remarked the other day that she was aware many people imagined that the anxiety, entailed by the South African War would be her death. "I may die!" added Her Majesty "certainly," but "it will be from some other cause. I don't mean to let Mr. Kruger kill me!"

ADVICE have been received from Tientsin stating that the Taku Tug and Lighter Co.'s lighter Taku is sunk in the Peiho in the upper Nine Ports reach. The vessel, which was coming down stream with a full cargo of peanuts for the Indo-China steamer Lienhsing, is lying right athwart the fairway and navigation is completely stopped.

LAST night Sergt. Donovan, Army Pay Corps, was presented by Garrison Sergt. Major Brown, on behalf of the members of the Staff and Departmental Sergeants' Mess, with a silver flask, a silver cigar case, and a set of gold cuff links on the occasion of his leaving for home. Sergt. Donovan embarks on the P. & O. Chusan, which sails tomorrow.

THE Band of the Hongkong Regiment will play at the Hongkong Hotel to-morrow (Saturday) evening, from 8 p.m. to 9.30 p.m.:—

- PROGRAMME.
March "Osmen" (Lorenz).
Overture "Lohengrin" (Wagner).
Selection "Maria de Rohan" (Donizetti).
Waltz "Heurda" (Hoffmann).
Selection "Rosa de Persia" (Sullivan).
Polka "Mela Rachen" (Angler).
God Save the Queen.

THE Shanghai Municipal Police have succeeded at last in capturing the chief of the gang which has been terrorising the Pootung hinterland so long. He has six or seven charges of murder against him, but none of these have occurred within the limits of the Settlements, so the authorities are in a quandary, as it is felt that there is no surer way he will be punished if handed over to the city authorities.

LABUAN NOTES.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
LABUAN, April 29th.

I have just sent a wire to you announcing the fact that the Sultan of Sulu, with a large following, arrived here this morning in the steamship Kudat en route for Singapore and possibly Europe. It has been known here for some time that trouble has been brewing there for some little while back, indeed, ever since the Americans, in flagrant violation of the Protocol of 21st March, 1877, which they took over from the Spaniards, have established Customs in the Sulu Archipelago with differential duties and other vexatious regulations. Lately the steamship Nanyang, of Singapore, in the regular run between Sulu, Celebes and Singapore, has fined five hundred dollars for some clerical error in her manifest and she has now ceased to run there.

Although the Sultan is very reserved, he admits that living there is almost impossible, but from some of his chiefs I learned that his object is to place his case before the two signatories to the Protocol, Germany and Great Britain. The Americans evidently seem bent upon driving British trade out of the Sulu group.

It is reported that Rajah Brooke, the ruler of Sarawak, intends making another raid into Brunei territory somewhere about the vicinity of the Trusan River. We allowed him last time to seize this property from the Sultan of Brunei in violation of our treaty with the latter power, but in any case, if Brunei is to go it were better that it should go into the hands of Rajah Brooke than into those of this wretched Chartered Company.

THEATRE ROYAL.

Last night the "Dallies" Company once more treated the residents of Hongkong to a performance of "The Geisha." There was a crowded house and the audience, to judge from the loud and frequent applause, was a most appreciative one. The "Dallies" were met with most cordial reception, and only from the blue-jackets, and Mr. Dallas had no reason to be ashamed of the plaudits which fell to his share.

There will be no performance to-night, but on Saturday the Company will produce the Drury Lane pantomime of "The Babes in the Wood," which drew crowded houses at home. We would advise our readers to secure seats early, as there is bound to be a rush.

THE KING LIEN-SHAN CASE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

MACAO, May 11th. The King Lien-shan case still drags on in the most monotonous manner. The accused has called seven witnesses, one of them being Mr. P. O. Seaton, the British Vice-Consul here. The evidence of one witness, who closed doors, so nothing is known as to the defence set up or the progress of the case.

SANITARY BOARD.

The usual fortnightly meeting of the Sanitary Board was held yesterday afternoon. There were present: The Hon. R. D. Ormsby (President), Lieut. Col. Ryan, R.A.M.C., (Vice President), Lieut. Col. Ryan, R.A.M.C., Dr. Hartigan, Dr. Clark, Mr. McKie, Mr. Osborn, Mr. F. C. Seaton, Mr. Chuen, and Mr. G. A. Woodcock (Acting Secretary).

The report of the Medical Officer of Health for 1899 was submitted. The President proposed its adoption and that it should be forwarded to Government.

Lt. Col. Ryan seconded. Mr. McKie wished to draw the special attention of the Government to the paragraph contained in the report on public urinals, and said the lack of accommodation supplied in the Colony with its 120,000 inhabitants was disgraceful. A larger number existed in Macao, though it had only 50,000 inhabitants, and proposed that an addition to the proposition be made calling special attention to this matter.

Dr. Hartigan seconded Mr. McKie, and, at the same time, pointed out other matters that deserved special attention being drawn to them. Lieut. Col. Ryan said he had no objection to the addition but he considered that the report spoke for itself. It contained many important items that special attention should be drawn to. If he had considered that course necessary he would have done so.

The proposition, with the addition, was carried unanimously.

SANITARY SURVIVORS' ANNUAL REPORT. The President said this was only a short report, proposed its adoption and its being forwarded to Government.

Dr. Hartigan, in seconding, said there were many things in the report entitled to attention being drawn to them, both the Government's and their own. One was that a professional man should spend half his time in clerical work; this work could be done by much cheaper labour, and allow a surveyor to perform his duties more efficiently.

The M. O. H. explained that a clerk had been appointed a few days ago.

The motion was carried.

SANITARY REFORM.

The letter from Government on the above question has already been published.

It was decided that Mr. Ryan's motion should be taken in connection with this subject.

In moving the resolution standing in his name, Lt. Col. Ryan said that the protection of the health of the people was the most important duty of a government and he did not advocate that this important duty should be surrendered by them to anyone else.

The Sanitary Board was not a social or political body and it was their duty to act as an Advisory Board to the Government who should not constantly reject their suggestions. There was no necessity to impress upon either the Board or the community the necessity of sanitary reform, what was necessary was to impress upon the Government the necessity of giving effect to suggestions made by the Board. It was no use making spasmodic, isolated suggestions, what was needed was a coherent, comprehensive scheme backed up by the whole Board. Talking about bubonic plague he said that more hospital accommodation was required, especially for cases of infectious diseases, hospitals where the Chinese could be attended to by their own doctors. He then moved—

"That in accordance with the suggestion of His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, the Sanitary Board in Committee appointed by the Sanitary Board prepare with as little delay as possible, for submission to the Government, a comprehensive scheme of sanitary reform for this colony, with special reference to arrangements for dealing with epidemics such as bubonic plague, points of more immediate urgency being first dealt with and forming the subject of interim reports."

Mr. Osborn said he had great pleasure in seconding Col. Ryan's resolution, he only feared that after a great deal of time and trouble had been expended the fruits of their labours would only be pigeon-holed, anyway they would have the satisfaction of putting on record that they had formulated a comprehensive scheme of sanitary reform.

Dr. Hartigan said that as they had been asked to suggest reforms it was their duty to do so. He did not expect much good would result as he was afraid their proposals would be pigeon-holed, but the Officer Administering the Government, who had the interests of the Colony at heart, had asked them to do so and he thought they should comply with the request.

The President said that before putting the resolution to the Board, a resolution which he was quite in sympathy with, in any way, he might say he had often been struck with the pessimistic view taken by members of the Sanitary Board and by the press, and a good many others in the colony, as to the state of Hongkong, and the amount of abuse heaped on the Government for doing nothing as regarded the sanitary state of the colony. He was not a doctor, but on looking at the death rate of Hongkong and comparing it with the death rate of his own beautiful city of Dublin he found that in Hongkong with plague in its midst they had a death rate of 22 per thousand, whilst in Dublin, there was a death rate of 50 per thousand. He did not mean to say that having plague here was not a very terrible thing and a great loss to Hongkong, but at the same time the death returns showed that Hongkong was not an unhealthy city. With regard to the Government, a good deal was said about the Government having done nothing towards the sanitation, but as far as he knew they had done a great deal, though of course there was more to be done. Some years ago the Government built a palatial police station, but the police never occupied it, the Government having handed it over as a plague hospital. Then the drainage of the town was carried out under Mr. Chadwick at an enormous expense. A great many other things had been done by the Government, and to condemn the Government in the whole sale fashion that they were sometimes condemned, charging them with sitting still and doing nothing with the recommendations of the Board, was he thought unfair. However, much remained to be done, and if something could be done to reduce the deaths from plague they might be proud of Hongkong being one of the healthiest cities in the British Empire.

Lt. Col. Ryan, on being asked to mention names of members to serve on the Committee, said as he was comparatively a stranger to the Colony he should prefer someone who had had greater experience to nominate the members.

The M. O. H. then proposed that the whole Board should constitute the committee. This was agreed to.

THE PROPOSED OBSERVATION STATION.

Dr. Clark's report on the above subject has already been published. At the meeting he pointed out the many uses that this camp would be put to, among others the segregation of immigrants and for the isolation of people from infected areas. The idea of a segregation camp had been adopted in Ceylon.

Dr. Lawson, in seconding, said he did not agree with Dr. Clark in all he had said, but it would certainly be useful for isolating purposes. He did not altogether agree with the Venice Convention which he signified as a lot of rubbish.

The President said he was quite in sympathy with the proposal. An official from Ceylon had lately called upon him and expressed surprise that we did not have such a camp here. In Ceylon they had a very large one, though they had not yet had the plague.

It was decided to recommend the Government to proceed as rapidly as possible with the erection of such a camp somewhere in the neighbourhood of Li-chi-ko.

HOUSE TO HOUSE VISITATION.

Dr. Lawson, pursuant to notice moved—

"That the attention of Government be called to By-law 10, Section 13, Ordinance 15 of 1894—That whenever two cases of plague have occurred in any health district the Sanitary Board recommend the hour be changed from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. to 5 a.m. to 6 p.m." In moving this resolution Dr. Lawson said that the visitation at 8 a.m. was absolutely useless, as the people from whose houses plague cases were taken rose with the sun and by 8 o'clock all the cases were removed; when the time was originally fixed, 8 o'clock was made the hour so that it would not disturb the Chinese clerk and comrade class. It was not this class that they wished to visit, but the coolies houses.

Mr. McKie said he had the greater pleasure in seconding this resolution as lately three or four bodies had been dumped down outside the doors of their works at East Point.

Dr. Clark pointed out that the course proposed by Dr. Lawson would take a month before it would become law. He had taken upon himself to see the Crown Solicitor as to the legality of a proposal of the same nature which he had drafted himself. It was in fact a new by-law which would only require the Government's approval to become law. This approval could be obtained at next Monday's meeting. The resolution was that—

"Any officer of the Sanitary Board may during the prevalence in the colony, or in any district thereof, of bubonic plague, cholera, or small-pox, and within such limits as may from time to time be defined by the Board, enter any building or curtilage between the hours of 5 a.m. and 6 a.m. for the purpose of examining whether any sick person or dead body is to be found upon such premises. If any sick person or remove him to a public hospital until he can be examined by some legally qualified and registered medical practitioner, and he may remove any dead body found upon such premises to the Public Mortuary."

The Chinese members asked that this order might be enforced with as little hardship to the Chinese as possible.

The proposed By-law was adopted.

PLAQUE MEASURES.

Dr. Clark, in speaking on measures taken to combat the plague, said there had been 3,646 rats destroyed during the previous fortnight making a total of 13,834. It had been recommended to the Government to place a guard somewhere near Murray Barracks to prevent people from moving their goods and chattels from the infected areas to uninfected. It was at first intended to have a military guard but afterwards a police guard was instituted. Similar precautions were being taken on the Praya and the water police were also instructed in the matter. With regard to the dumping of dead bodies in the streets, the Tung Wah Hospital Authorities had been approached and had consented to establish a branch establishment to treat plague patients. It was also intended to put into force a regulation adopted in 1898, empowering persons suffering from plague to leave the colony under certain restrictions, the removal of bodies of persons who had died from plague and being also provided for. The ward by which they had to leave in 1898 was not now available, and he proposed that "Sutherland street Wharf" should be substituted. Continuing, Dr. Clark pointed out that Kowloon Peninsula was infected and asked that it should be declared so.

Dr. Lawson seconded that Kowloon be declared infected.

Mr. Osborn expressed satisfaction that the Chinese were to have a hospital at which they could be attended by their own doctors. He thought this would greatly diminish the number of bodies found in the streets. Mr. Osborn concluded his remarks by saying—"If a man chooses to go and die in the manner which seems to him fittest he is entitled to do so. He is entitled to die in the manner which pleases him best and to select the hospital—whether after all it is nothing more nor less than a house to die in—which he prefers.

The motion was carried.

THE PLAGUE AT MACAO.

The deaths in Macao for the week ended 15th April numbered 93, including 39 from plague. There were 94 deaths during the following week, including 50 from plague; and during the week ended April 29th there were 83 deaths, including 32 from plague.

THE HEALTH OF HONGKONG.

The death rate for the week ended April 21st was 26.5, against 19.6 for the previous week and 23.8 for the corresponding week last year. The rate for the succeeding week was 26.3, against 24.3 for the corresponding week last year.

DR. HARTIGAN AND LIMEWASHING.

The following letter from Dr. Hartigan was submitted—

Hongkong, 7th May, 1900.

Dear Sir,—Having been assured by the M.O.H., Dr. Clark, that the Sanitary Board would be glad to hear further views with reference to the subject of limewashing, and remarks on the same subject at Mr. Pollock's lecture on "Some serious local problems," I venture to submit the following communication for the consideration of the members of the Sanitary Board.

In the first place, I would point out that my remarks are to be regarded only as a protest against limewashing as a means of combating the plague during an epidemic and not as a protest against lime washing as a general cleansing process in the non-epidemic season. Against the latter I raise no objection, but I wish to call the attention of the Board to the risks involved by enforcing By-law 16 (made in May, 1897, under Section 13 of Ordinance 15 of 1894) during an epidemic of plague and without previous disinfection of the houses which are to be "thoroughly cleaned and lime washed." The houses chiefly affected by the above By-law are occupied mainly by Chinese, Japanese, Indians, and Philipinos. The majority of these are accustomed to go barefooted, and in many cases their feet are the subject of a form of eczema well known to medical men in Hongkong as "Fungus Eczema," thus affording an easy means of inoculation.

The necessary disturbance of furniture, bedding, &c., and the dust raised in the removal of the same previous to the process of limewashing does but increase the risk involved.

That I enunciate no new theory will be at once seen if I quote Dr. Lawson's remarks with reference to "Mode of infection." In his report on the plague epidemic of 1894, he says—

"Most of the coolies affected were neither shoes nor stockings. Almost all males go barefooted, which would partly account for the large number of the coolie class affected." In connection with the same point I would recall the fact that several soldiers of the Sikh regiment, notwithstanding their being well booted, were stricken with plague after being employed on lime washing and cleaning out of infected houses during the 1894 epidemic. I believe I am right in stating that owing to this it was found necessary to discontinue lime washing and substitute antiseptic cleansing, which had the desired effect of at once checking the occurrence of cases amongst the men.

It may be objected that the houses referred to in the above report are not affected by cases of plague as yet, but evidence is lacking to show that they do not contain plague bacilli which are liable to be stirred up and become at once active should limewashing be indulged in without previous disinfection; indeed a reference to Dr. Atkinson's report on the prevalence of plague during the years 1897-1898 is interesting in this particular. He says—"The recrudescence of the disease in houses previously infected shows how tenaciously the bacillus clings to dwellings." Notwithstanding a new system of disinfection having been adopted that still the case in a less degree.

I would point out further that one of the most recently and most efficiently lime washed districts of the city is now the seat of the majority of plague cases, thus proving the inefficiency, to say nothing of the mischief, of limewashing unaccompanied and not preceded by disinfection. Moreover I have been called to houses to see cases of plague which have occurred during the process of lime washing, there being no cases of plague in the same house previously. Coincidence might be pleaded against my argument, but in view of the above considerations I venture to think that such is not the case.

Disinfection, especially if done thoroughly, is expensive, but so is the plague, and it is becoming more expensive every year to the colony. The question arises, therefore, as to who is to bear the expense. There cannot be much hesitation in answering that question. The Government and the Sanitary Board alone should provide for a matter so vitally affecting the welfare of the colony.

Another point which should be made mention of is the fact that in India quicklime is used, in Hongkong slaked lime, the latter is as ineffective as the former is effective.

In conclusion, let me call the attention of the Board to the excellent example set by the Naval Yard Authorities when removing Fletcher Street last year. Before over a hundred of the lime wash brush the hydrants were made use of and the buildings were cleaned with a weak solution of carbolic acid, which if it did not thoroughly disinfect at any rate got rid of the dust in the buildings. Is there any reason why sea water should not be used in the same way by the Sanitary Board if the expense of thorough disinfection is objected to by the Government?

I trust that the Board will treat my remarks in the spirit in which they are made. I do but call attention to these matters in the interests of the public. No one is more aware than I am of the excellent work done regarding plague by the Sanitary Board, and I cordially hope, therefore, that that good work may not be even partially marred by the enforcement of an inadequate—nay a mischievous—by-law.

I have the honour to remain, Your obedient servant,

G. M. HARTIGAN.

G. A. Woodcock, Esq., Acting Secretary Sanitary Board.

Mr. McKie proposed that the discussion on this letter should be postponed until the next meeting.

Mr. Osborn seconded.

Lt. Col. Ryan proposed that it should be considered in committee as it was not of public interest how the Board arrived at their decisions.

Mr. McKie objected as the letter had been made public and so that Board's discussion on it should also be public. It was finally decided that the matter should stand over until the next meeting when Col. Ryan could make his proposition. This was all the business of the meeting.

THE "KOWSING" CASE.

It is rumoured in Shanghai that the foreign jurist to whom the dispute over the case of the Indo-China steamer Kowsing is according to Mr. Breckin's statement in the House of Commons to be referred, is the President of the United States, who will be assisted by the Hon. Mr. Foster, a well-known lawyer, who visited the East in an official capacity during the Sino-Japanese war.

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM BIBBY.

SINGAPORE, 3rd May.

There will be very deep and very general regret throughout this Colony and the Native States at the announcement of the death of Mr. William Bibby, Manager of the Raub Australian Gold Mining Company Ltd., which sad event took place at Kuala Lumpur at midnight last night (Wednesday), the 2nd inst.

Mr. Bibby for one or two years past had not been in good health, and indeed just prior to his trip to Europe his friends had been extremely anxious about him, for symptoms of physical breakdown had appeared at a time, when owing to the preparation of large development up at the Raub mines, Mr. Bibby had certainly severe strain was thrown on Mr. Bibby's health, although the character of his ailment, Bright's disease, was such as would not admit of any quite complete re-establishment of health. A few weeks ago Mr. Bibby had the bad luck to have had an accident at Kuala Lipis, whither he had gone in connection with an inspection of the Selangor mines. He was thrown out of a dog-cart, injuring the side of his head severely, and being otherwise much shaken. This shock, although it was being apparently got over and the wound healing well, was followed by malarial fever, and that, unfortunately caused a rapid development of the old trouble, after his return to Raub. Getting no better and the head wound becoming inflamed, Mr. Bibby was removed to Kuala Lumpur, and thence to Kuala Lumpur for treatment, in charge of Messrs. Arthur and Charles Bibby. Here in spite of the joint efforts of Drs. Gerard, Travers, and McCloskey, Mr. Bibby rapidly sank, and died late last night as mentioned above.

It is arranged that the remains of Mr. Bibby are to be brought to Singapore by the s.s. Hydra, which will arrive at an early hour on Saturday morning.

The funeral will take place immediately after the landing of the coffin at Johnston's Pier, the Cemetery being reached probably shortly after 2 a.m. The body of the late Mr. William Bibby will be interred by the side of his wife, who predeceased him by about three years, and his son Mr. William Charles Bibby, who was accidentally killed about two years ago by a fall down a mine-shaft in the neighbourhood of Raub.

Mr. William Bibby was about 63 years of age and was born in Liverpool. He was first employed in the L. & N. W. R. Co.'s works at Crewe, subsequently going to Launceston, Bournemouth. Some forty-two years ago he went to Australia, and was at first in Melbourne. The first post as Mine Manager, which he held was at Christy's Reef, Castlemaine, New South Wales. From that time to the latter end of 1879, when he was engaged by the Raub Syndicate, he was occupied in various posts in different parts of Australia, gaining experience in all. He was connected with many of the largest mines, and was last before coming to Raub at Croydon, Queensland. Mr. Bibby's early struggles with the difficulties of transport, erection of machinery, and sinking at Raub have become almost historical. He came with eight Europeans and a quantity of machinery, which he was gravely assured he would never get to Raub. Since then his indomitable energy, and the gradual development of the country have made him a household name. The opening of the road to the mine, the destruction of the workings by flood in 1891, the reconstruction of the Company in the following year when the Pahang rising took place, and Raub was for months in a state of siege, and the sinking of the new Raub Hole shaft are the early incidents of Mr. Bibby's work at Raub. Steady organisation and development work combined with gold winning, have been the features of late years, the last work which Mr. Bibby so nobly hoped to see completed, being the great electric installation, now almost on the point of completion.

Mr. Bibby leaves behind him three sons, all at Raub, and three daughters, of whom one, the second, is at Raub, the eldest daughter being married to Mr. C. H. Paul, of the Pahang Corporation, Kuantan, and the youngest to Major Lane, R.A.M.C., Kandy, Ceylon.—S. F. Press.

THE NEW GERMAN CHURCH AT SHANGHAI.

INTERESTING CEREMONY.

SINGAPORE, 7th May.
The German community of Shanghai have laboured under the disadvantage of not having a church of their own and religious services have had to be conducted in the Union Church. It was not to be supposed, however, that the congregation under the popular Pastor Hackmann would be content with this state of matters, and the efforts of Pastor Hackmann and several influential members of the German community to secure a place of worship for the congregation culminated yesterday in the laying of the foundation stone of what will be an important addition to the religious edifices of Shanghai. The site secured is one of the most central it was possible to have got, at the corner of Whangpoo Road and Astor Road, facing the Garden Bridge, and almost opposite the German Consulate. The proceedings commenced at ten o'clock yesterday morning, a band of music having been erected on the site of the church to protect those who took part in the proceedings from the heat of the sun. There was a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen, nearly 200 being present, including members of the Municipal Council, the Committee and Minister of the Union Church, H.E. Admiral Bendemann and the commanders of the German war vessels Hertha and Gefion, together with deputations from the crews of these vessels. By the kind permission of the Municipal Council, the Town Band was present, and under the masterly direction of Mr. Sternberg, played as introduction Largo by Handel and after the ceremony O Sanctissima.

The proceedings were conducted in German. Pastor Hackmann preached an eloquent and impressive sermon from I Cor. iii. 2. "Other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ," after which the audience joined in singing the hymn—Nun danket alle Gott. The stone was then lowered into position. Pastor Hackmann first giving three taps with the hammer in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost; then Admiral Bendemann gave three taps in the name of Faith, Love, and Hope. Consul Schnitzler followed with a like ceremonial and three taps by Mr. Joly. Nothing concluded the laying of the stone.

A tin box was enclosed in a cavity of the stone and contained—a Bible; 2 a short account of the German congregation of Shanghai; 3 a document signed by all the members of the Church; 4 a copy of the Ostasiatische Lloyd; 5 a rare old coin presented by Mr. Beckhoff—Mercury.

CONFLICTING STATEMENTS.

The two following paragraphs, cut from a home contemporary are certainly somewhat confusing.
General O'Lea has telegraphed from the Philippines to Washington that a number of important insurgent officers are surrendering, and that the situation is gradually becoming more pacific.

The Spanish Minister of War has received an official despatch from Manila, announcing that a large number of Spaniards residing in that city are desirous of returning to Spain, because the Filipino insurrection is increasing in the Island of Luzon.

BY THE MAIL.

[From Our Exchanges.]

Death of General Wray.
The death is announced of Lieut. General H. Wray, C.M.G., formerly of the Royal Engineers, who received his first commission in 1843, and retired in 1887, having served in the operations in Japan in 1864.

Mr. Wm. E. Goschen.
Mr. William Edward Goschen, now Minister at Belgrade, has been appointed Her Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at Copenhagen. In 1885 Mr. Goschen was promoted to be Secretary of Legation at Peking, where he remained for three years.

Colenso Relics.
Two disabled guns of the Royal Field Artillery, which were used at the battle of Colenso, have arrived at Woolwich Arsenal, and are being examined with a view of deciding whether they can be made serviceable for re-issue to the Artillery. They bear marks of having been struck both by Boer shells and bullets. The indentations from the latter number some hundreds, and indicate that the gunners who manned the weapons must have had a very hot time of it.

A Relic of Gordon.
An interesting relic of the siege of Khartoum has just reached London in the shape of one of the money notes which, like the medals struck by General Gordon in order to keep up the drooping spirits of his garrison, were issued in the town itself and afterwards buried. Its face value is described as 100 piastres, and it bears a notice stating that "this amount is entirely payable from the Treasury at Khartoum or Cairo, in Lower Egypt, if a year has elapsed after the date hereof, 25th April, 1884." It is signed in two separate places "Gordon Pasha, Governor-General, Khartoum," and at the foot "C. G. Gordon."

The Peking Syndicate.
A financial contemporary alluding to the issue on 3rd March by the Peking Syndicate of the Shansi share prospectus offering 900,000 of their £1 shares at par, states that the public only took about 7 per cent. The underwriters are thus left with enormous blocks. Messrs. N. M. Rothschild and Sons figure for 37,000 shares. Mr. J. B. Morgan is interested to the extent of 23,725 shares. Sir E. Cassel has 18,500 shares against his name. The Exploration Company, Messrs. Anthony Gibbs and Sons, and Messrs. C. J. Hambro and Son figure for the same number of shares. Sir W. D. Pearson and Pearson and Son (Limited) appear to have taken 1,000 and 20,000 shares respectively. Lord Charles Beresford has a little holding of 4,625 shares to think over. Subscribers may have little cause for satisfaction, but they are in good company.

The China Squadron.
With regard to the new ships going out to the China Station "Cassandra" writes to a London contemporary—"I would point out that the Victorious is in every way better protected than the Goliath, having a longer, thicker, and broader belt of Harvey's armor, together with a slightly more powerful armament, while as regards age and speed the Goliath has a slight pull. The Undaunted is an armoured cruiser, and carries two 9.2in. guns in addition to her lighter armament. The Argonaut is only a protected cruiser and carries nothing heavier than the 5in. gun, but she has a considerable advantage in age and speed. The Tosari and Rattler are about on a par as to armament and speed, but the Rattler has protection over engines and magazines, though a much older vessel. I have more than once drawn attention in your columns to our relative naval weakness in the Far East, and the present contemplated relief does nothing to improve the situation. The truth is, we are most lamentably deficient in armoured cruisers.

London to Paris by Coach.
From London to Paris by coach is the latest novelty of the road. The new scheme was inaugurated on 19th ulto. when two smartly-appointed four-in-hands left Prince's Hotel, Piccadilly, for Paris. One was the Rocket, with Mr. Ernest Fownes in charge, and the other was a private coach chartered and driven by Miss M. J. W. F. Eastwick, an American lady, who was taking a party of friends to the French capital. Each coach was elegantly appointed. The guards were resplendent in a livery of green and gold, with splashes of red; the Rocket was painted in red and the companion coach in yellow, and each had on the back and the panels of the doors "London to Paris, via Newhaven," in gold lettering. A large and interested crowd witnessed the start, which was made at eleven o'clock to the merry sound of the horn, the Rocket, with its dozen paying passengers, leading. Both vehicles will traverse the same route, but the Rocket will perform the journey in nine days, while Miss Eastwick and her party will stay at Rouen to inspect the attractions of the town, reaching Paris some three or four days later.

The Tower and the Mint.
The restoration of the Bloody Tower in the Tower of London is now completed all but a few repairs to a turret, and the repairs to the Lieutenant's lodgings are finished. The lower, fine, old half-timbered buildings are now as safe and sound as ever they were, and the tower, stripped of its old and dilapidated and succo excrescences that had long disfigured it, is now restored to much of its original antiquity. At the Royal Mint, not a stone's throw from the Tower, excavations are being made for the erection of a new die and metal department. The Royal Mint stands on the site of the Ancient Abbey of St. Mary of Graces, or Eastminster, which, in its size and the extent of its precincts, is said to have rivalled that of Westminster. The Abbey was founded by Edward III. out of gratitude, and in obedience to a vow, for his escape from a fearful storm at sea, and it was built on the churchyard of the Holy Trinity, which was dedicated by Ralph Stratford, Bishop of London, to the honour of God, about the year 1350, for use as a pestilence ground, the usual burial grounds then existing being quite inadequate to hold the victims of the terrible pestilence then raging. The excavations at the Mint for the new offices have disclosed what are supposed to be part of the old chalk foundations of the "Eastminster," or East Minster, and two moulded stone doorway jambs of Norman transitional work, but the latter not in situ.

Three Miles of Newspapers.
One of the greatest problems besetting the Trustees of the British Museum is the encroachment which in recent years has been made upon the space at their disposal by the accumulated piles of newspapers—both London and provincial as well as foreign and colonial. An effort is now being made to grapple with this difficulty, and Viscount Peel's Bill, copies of which have now been distributed, authorises the Trustees to deposit with local authorities files of any local newspapers which have been received by them at Bloomsbury since the year 1873, or which may be hereafter received, and also to make rules respecting the disposal, by destruction or otherwise, of printed matter deposited in the museum which is not of sufficient value to justify its preservation. How gigantic the growth of this department really has been in recent years may be gathered from the fact that the shelves occupied by London newspapers alone exceed 1,000 yards in length, whilst those devoted to the provincial, colonial, and foreign Press are more than 3,000 yards, the total measurement being close upon three miles. In a single year the British newspapers have been known to fill 111 yards of shelving, which is at the phenomenal rate of one mile in sixteen years. Such a record of progress cannot, of course, be prolonged indefinitely, and should the ex-Speaker's Bill be carried through Parliament, an important addition will be made to the restricted accommodation at Bloomsbury.

The Attempt on the Prince of Wales.
The Prince of Wales has received nearly a thousand telegrams at Copenhagen congratulating him on his escape from assassination. The bullet fired at him by Spido has been found in the saloon of the train in which the Royal party was travelling, and must have passed near the Prince's head. A thanksgiving service was held at the English Church in Copenhagen on 8th ulto, and during the day the Prince received the whole of the foreign diplomatic representatives, who, on behalf of their respective Governments, congratulated him on his providential escape. The British authorities continue their inquiries into the proceedings of the Socialist Club, which is believed to have instigated Spido to commit the crime. Spido has been further interrogated, and the fact has been elicited that three other young men were concerned with him in hatching a plot to shoot the Prince on his way through the city; but he alleged that he fired at the Prince more out of bravado than anything else, some one having bet him £5 that he would not carry out the design. One of these men, named Meert, was arrested, and to a great extent confirmed Spido's story. It is alleged that investigation has shown that Spido had no desire to commit the crime, but was instigated by his companions. Even at the station he showed reluctance and refused to fire while the Prince was on the platform. It was only just as the train started that he was urged by the taunts of his companions, he jumped on the footboard of the Royal saloon and fired his revolver. The parents of Spido have addressed a petition to the Queen, praying for mercy on behalf of "an innocent lad acted on by evil incitements."
